BOARD OF TRUSTEES NAMES PRINCIPAL OF TURNING POINT CONSOLIDATED

ARLINGTON, Texas, Jan. 19, 2017 – The AISD Board of Trustees today announces its selection of Ray Borden as principal of the new Turning Point Consolidated Discipline Alternative Education Program – a school that combines Turning Point High School and Turning Point Junior High.

Borden has been the principal of Turning Point High School since 2015. Prior to that, he was an assistant principal at Bowie High School from 2012 to 2015. He was a ninth-grade world geography teacher at Hurst Junior High in the Hurst-Eules-Bedford ISD from 2011 to 2012. Borden began his teaching career at Boles Junior High in the Arlington ISD, teaching eighth-grade U.S. history (2008-2010) and seventh-grade science (2010-2011). Borden has a bachelor's from the University of Texas at Arlington and a master's from the University of North Texas.
